2013 Sangiovese

Stillwater Creek Vineyard, Columbia Valley

“This lovely Sangiovese brings forth images of Vivaldi’s Four Seasons — Spring, energetic with a delicate restraint. Blossoming aromatics and a bouquet of strawberry jam, rainier cherries and pomegranate celebrate with wisps from an Italian roast coffee at arms-length. Medium grained tannins possess a light grip on winter’s hardened soil while the wine’s softer acid ushers sundried pomegranate and black cherry with shades of plum and lightly toasted oak. This is an excellent choice for veal marsala.- Chuck Reininger, Winemaker
